

A Small Write up regarding Dr. Prabha Atre ji....

Dr. Prabha Atre was born on 13 September 1932 and was having a quest for Music, since her childhood.

She has done her Bachelors of Science and also bachelor of Law from Fergusson College and University of Poona, respectively.

She has also achieved the degrees of Sangeet Alankar and Sangeet Praveen from Gandharva Maha-Vidyalyaya.

Despite being the disciple of Pt. Sureshababu Mane and Vidushi Hirabai Badodekar of Kirana Gharana, she also has learnt Western Music from Trinity College, London.

She has not only consistently worked as a Performing Artist in Indian Classical and Semi classical Music, but also remained equally engaged and oriented towards Academic Side of Music and its updation.

She was also associated for the period from 1979 to 1992 and worked as Professor, Head of the P.G. Dept. of Music in our SNTD Women's University.

She also has served many different prestigious positions in Academic Bodies in other universities within India and Abroad.

For her consistent and creative contribution to the field of music, (e.g. Books, Creation of New Ragas, Gramophone Records, Concerts, etc.) she was also felicitated by many different awards e.g. Gaana Prabha, Sangeet Natak Academy Award, Padmashree, Padmabhushan and many more.

Today we all are very happy and feeling proud that she is a recipient of the Great Honour 'PADMAVIBHUSHAN'

We heartily congratulate her and wish her healthy musical journey ahead!!